Best Neighbor Ever
Written by: Brian Sahli
Carol was my neighbor and my friend. We met one fall day in 2015, both of us were on our way to work. We just happen to share a car accident together and ever since that day we were friends. I always admired her strength, her compassion, kindness, and her committment to her job and the Gym. She was the definition of being fit, healthy and full of life. I would always tell her with admiration, "I don't know how you do it dude." she would just say, "Bruh! You can do it too, you just gotta go do it man!". She was always so inspiring and spritual. She used to say, "So happy I hit your bumper dude.." and I would say, "I'm glad my neighbor ran into me!" It was our running joke and we were good buds like that. Ever since the car accident we were both happy to have a friend so close. I would kitty sit Mr. Maurice and she would take care of my little doggy Georgia when either of us where out of town. It was very comforting to have a friend right next door that you could always trust. Last year I went through a rough patch in my life. Carol was there to check in on me and always had postive words of wisdom, I never forget her friendship and support. She was such a great listener. I knew if I needed help she would be there without a second thought, all I had to do was call. She was selfless, kind and giving person while so independently strong. I'll miss the morning text messages wishing me a good day at work, when I would leave in the AM Carol could hear my car start from her living room. It was just her way to say Hi and it was always appriciated. She is loved by so many and rightly so. I will miss her, we all will miss her but her memory will always be cherished.

A Wonderful Life
Written by: Barbara Woodhouse
There is so much grief in losing Carol but so much to celebrate in her life. I remember her as a toddler having a tea party with her dolls, as a little kid eager to keep up with her big brothers Jim and Mike, at family spaghetti dinners and as a teen into friends and basketball, in her first job sharing the excitement and wonders of Disney and then, as she found and grew into her profession as an educator, sharing the challenges and joys of her work. We lost a good friend who had grown into a vibrant woman. Her stamina in ultra marathons was equaled only by her determination to reach out and change the lives of her students. Funny, strong, beautiful, tender hearted, fragile and brave — all these and more. Carol will be so very much missed by her family and friends. Gone too soon but always in our hearts.
