Rosie Marie Martin

OCT 22, 1927 - MAY 2, 2015

Rosie Marie (Pryor) Martin was born on October 22, 1927, to James (Known as “G”) and Clara Pryor in Waco, Texas. Rosie was the youngest daughter, Lil Sister, of six brothers, Milton, James, Fred, Alfred, George, Bryant and one sister, Louise. Their influence and love, along with an extended family, including her niece Gloria, formed the foundation of her character and a sincere love of family. Rosie graduated from Wiley College in Marshall, Texas, a historically black college. With diligence that came from an inner strength, she became a Teacher/ Assistant Principal in Herlong, California. She loved the art of teaching and her profession for 28 years.

Rosie Marie Martin married Curtis Martin, Jr. in 1952. A family grew to include sons, Ron, Grenell, Curtis, Vincent and Dwight. Her unconditional love for her sons brought her immense joy, some challenging moments, laughter and quiet pride. Rosie enjoyed being home with her husband Curtis, sharing a special relationship that grew as they matured. This love was unique, rare and special. It is a love they lived on a daily basis, which was built on mutual respect, support and always laughter.

Rosie leaves to cherish her memory, her devoted husband, Curtis Martin Jr. and her 4 sons Ron, Grenell (Demetria), Curtis III (Pamela), Dwight (Rena). Vincent Dexter preceded her in death. She has 4 grandchildren, Shauncy, Aaron, Nicola and Alexander, plus 3 extended grandsons; 2 great grandchildren Aiden and Kaiden, 3 extended great grandchildren and a host of relatives and dear friends.

Aunt Rosie I can't say how much I will miss you. I will always cherish all my summers that I spent in your home from the age of 9-15. You opened up your doors and allowed me to be the daughter you never had, and to me that will always be very dear in my heart. I love you and all you stood for and were. You never forgot to send me a card or call and wish me happy birthday. May you rest in Paradise.Your daughter/niece, Faye Chick
