I vbiiee Green and West will be great for us next year, but I also vbiiee we need another big man like Semih Erden back or try to get a Nene or Chandler, or make some kind of trade and we also need someone to drive the ball to the basket. You need to create foul trouble to win and help finish games which we didnt do last year in the Finals, thats how we lost, the Lakers got to the line and made there shots and thats how you close out games. Pierce cant go in everytime like early in his carreer so who is going to drive the ball? Ronod is good at it but doesnt do it enough, West can do it but again doesnt do it enough. Need to score points in the paint. A few things happen when you do that. You either get the easy 2 points and maybe get fouled or you dont get it and get fouled or you dont make it but may get tipped in. We are a jump shooting team and thats why we are struggling at the end of games and near the end of the season. Marquis Daniels worked on his jump shot by shooting 1000 jumpers a day and stepped up his game, Dwight Howard learned how to play offence this past off season, my point is why can my boy Rondo not hit a free throw? Its called free throw for a reason. Dirk hit like 24 straight in a game the other night! Pierce hit 21 in a row one year, Ray Allen has a rating of over 90 percent at the line why are they not working on that part of his game with him. Hes my favorite Celtic but I think thats the only thing he needs work on,well that and still work on the jumper, he would be unstoppable if he did those two things.
